Congressional Convention met pursuant to a call of the Congressional Committee, at the Court House, St. Joseph, and temporarily organized by the selection of Dr. Brown of Audrew county, as temporary chairman, and effect a permanent organization by calling M. G. Rosbery, of Nodaway, to the secretary.

After considerable wrangling over he proxies, over which there was much illibustering, the convention proceeded to the nomination of candidates upon a call from the various counties. When Andrew county was called, Dr Brown arose and placed in nomination Gen. B. F. Loan, which was second by Gen. Bradshaw, of Buchquan county. No other candidate being named, although it was understood their was a clear majority in the convention opposed to General Loan's nomination yet the nomination went by default for him, on account of the opposition to him being unable to concentrate upon

Gen. Loan is now the nominee of the Republican party, and we of Holt county propose to give him five hundred majority, while we confess that we believe that a Holt county man would have recorded at least nine hundred majority on our side of the political balance sheet in November.

It has broken out anew in Persia, as we learn by recent accounts, where there have been, of late, numerous Christian victims to the fury of the Osmanlis. An Armenian journal reports the case of a young Christian merchant, a Persian subject, who has been the latest sufferer. A few of the Mohammedans observed that a young Tartar girl visited his bazaar, as they supposed either for the purpose of obtaining forbidden drinks, or on account of an affection for the Christian-in either case a great crime. They violently invaded his store, seized him and the young woman, and dragged both before a magistrate. The latter decided that the Christian had committed a capital offense, and one worthy of death. The fanatical mob then seized the unfortunate Armenian, dragged him to the public market-place, and scourged him; then placing a rope around the neck of the sufferer, drew him through the streets Saturday, September the 16th, 1876. till death relieved him.
